Dubai	Dubai has become a major tourism destination in the last few years. Having welcomed 10 million visitors during the course of the year for the first time in 2012, this ambitious destination is now actively planning to welcome 20 million visitors a year by 2020. For comparison, Canada welcomed 16 million tourists in 2012. So

	Dubai, which is just 0.4% of the size of Canada will shortly be attracting more visitors than us! Dubai is one of the world’s most exhilarating destinations: a glittering city that offers swathes of golden beaches; world-class shopping, dining and nightlife; hosts electrifying events and sporting championships; and, for all the family, is one big adventurous playground. Where tradition meets ambition it is renowned for its futuristic architecture. This city is also proud to display a rich heritage and culture. Extraordinary images of Dubai’s skyline have been seen around the world, but this is a city that must be experienced to be believed. Where else can you spend the morning on the beach, the afternoon snow skiing and the evening taking a camel riding in the desert? Where else can you dive with sharks in a shopping mall and watch dancing fountains at the base of the world’s tallest tower? Whatever your traveller interests, whatever your age – Dubai is unlikely to disappoint.
Exploring Dubai	Historical Highlights Explore the past – step back in time to explore its rich past. Start your day at Dubai Museum to capture the history of Dubai in pictures, artifacts and slideshows. Just a five-minute walk from the Museum you’ll discover the winding lanes and wind-tower houses of the Al Fahidi Historic District. Stop by the Arabian Tea House (formerly known as Basta Art Café) for refreshing mint lemonade. Peek into The Majlis Gallery next door for a lesson in Middle Eastern art. More galleries abound in the District when you walk through the narrow winding lanes. If you get the timing right, join a tour at the Sheikh Mohammed Centre for Cultural Understanding. A short stroll along the Dubai Creek promenade will lead you to the Textile Souk where variety is the USP and bargaining is the norm. At the end of the souk, follow the promenade as it continues around the Creek. You will soon reach Shindagha where you’ll discover Sheikh Saeed’s House – residence of the former ruler of Dubai, now a museum. Break for lunch at Bait Al Wakeel Heritage Restaurant next to the Textile Souk. Take a seat on the terrace, sip on fresh lemon and mint juice while the chef cooks your choice of seafood. Across the Creek you’ll discover the Spice Souk – and getting there is part of the fun. Step aboard an abra – a traditional wooden boat – and join the melee on the water. Upon disembarking, the aromatic Souk heaving with the fragrance cardamom, cinnamon, cloves, star anise, dried lemon and nutmeg awaits you across the road. Saffron is the best buy here. From the old to the new – grab a cab and head to Madinat Jumeirah, a modern take on an ancient Arab citadel. Start at the Madinat Souk to pick up an Arabian memento of your trip and then hop on to an abra to chart the meandering waterways of the Madinat and marvel at the splendid wind towers that rise ahead. Dine at any of the Madinat's 44 elite eateries that offer stunning views of the graceful Burj Al Arab and of course, food that shines.

Soft Adventure Highlights

Whether you want to swim, surf, ski or race across sand – Dubai has every kind of option available.

Begin the day with a splash at Wild Wadi, where 30 gravity-defying thrills await adventure seekers. After soaking in the exhilaration, take a taxi to the colossal The Dubai Mall. Adventures of a different kind await here. Being the world's largest mall, you can actually embark on a treasure hunt of the world's most coveted haute couturiers. Break for lunch at the massive food court – from sushi to shawarma, every palate is covered here. Burn off the calories skating at the Olympic-sized Dubai Ice Rink or walking through the 48m-glass tunnel of Dubai Aquarium. With 33,000 marine animals housed here, we guarantee this walk will be unlike any other. The Dubai Mall fringes the mighty Burj Khalifa. Engage in an 'At the Top' experience to zoom to the 124th floor of the world's tallest building for stunning views of the city, desert and ocean.

Drop in for high-tea (literally) at At.mosphere, the chic restaurant and lounge on the 122nd level of the tower. Setting foot on earth again, head towards the Burj Lake to watch a marvellous display of light and water that is The Dubai Fountain. Walk across the bridge that links the promenade to Souk Al Bahar next door. Its gourmet restaurants and sophisticated lounges offer some of the finest table-scapes in the city. Whether you choose to dine al-fresco or in more intimate settings indoors, the experience lends the perfect finishing touch to a day filled with wonders.

Cool contrasts

Having seen old and new Dubai, it's time for another contrast. Spend the morning by the coast and in the afternoon escape to the desert.

With year-round sunshine, you can be pretty sure it's always beach weather in Dubai. While you can choose from over half-a-dozen sun-kissed spots, the beach at The Walk JBR is a treat. Laze at the shores to top up your tan or swim out to The Beach Waterpark for some action-filled fun. Have lunch here at any of the beachside restaurants or cafes before strolling to Dubai Marina metro station for the next stop of the day: Mall of the Emirates.

From sand to snow – a transition that is only possible in Dubai. With a massive snow park, five ski runs and the Snow Bullet zip line, Ski Dubai- the region's first indoor ski resort - has to be seen to be believed. And come late afternoon, how about an exotic desert safari to end the day? The Arabian desert is a playground like no other. Go dune bashing, sand

	boarding or mount a camel for a leisurely sway through the sands. Just as the sun sets over the dunes, guests are led to a Bedouin-style camp where the revelry begins with captivating traditional dances and fire shows. Get yourself a henna tattoo or even a souvenir photo in the traditional Emirati dress. Soon the aroma from the kitchen rises, beckoning guests to a royal dinner. Prepare for a mezze of dishes and flavours and a platter of succulent grilled whole lamb, chicken and kebabs. The elaborate dinner marks the end of the desert adventure after which you are driven back to your hotel. Wonderland Today explore Dubai using the city's amazing transport system. Start by hopping on to the sleek Dubai Tram, the city's newest public transport mode cum tourism attraction. Disembark at the Gateway station at Palm Jumeirah where the Palm Monorail awaits you. The only one of its kind in the Middle East, the fully-automated, driverless monorail runs from the foot of the Palm Jumeirah to Atlantis The Palm, which is perched upon its furthest crescent. The five-minute ride yields a stunning view of Dubai Marina, the Burj Al Arab and of course, the glittering Palm. Hop off at the Atlantis station, walking a few hundred metres to the palatial resort. As well as Aquaventure waterpark and the magnificent tunnels of the Lost Chambers, don't miss out on the opportunity to swim nose-to-nose with the resident dolphins. Having built up an appetite dig into a sumptuous buffet at Atlantis' Kaleidoscope or tuck into the flavours of Italy at Ronda Locatelli. Heading back, it's time to discover why Dubai is called the 'City of Gold'. Take the Dubai Metro to Al Ras Station. Nearby, stands the Dubai Gold Souk – a labyrinth of covered walkways home to over 300 shops offering dazzling jewellery in gold, diamonds and silver. Here, pieces are sold by weight according to the current market price (displayed on boards around the souk) with an additional charge for workmanship. Don't be shy of bargaining – you can easily walk away with a 30 per cent discount! Even if you don't intend to buy, do visit the souk for its visual grandeur. As you emerge from the souk the Creek opposite beckons. Set sail for a lavish dinner cruise. While there is plenty of live entertainment on-board, the views are the star of the show as you drift past the docked dhows, the old souks and landmark buildings such as the Dubai Courts, the British Embassy and the Etisalat building (the one with the distinctive golf ball on the top) and other interesting landmarks.
Luxury Dubai	In Dubai you can indulge in some of the most exotic experiences known to man. Start with a seaplane adventure where you can explore the past and present of Dubai from a Cessna 208. Taking off from the waters of the Arabian Gulf bordering the elegant Dubai Creek and Golf Club,

	Seawings's Dubai Creek Silver tour is a 40-minute flight that rewards you with spectacular views of the Dubai Creek, Palm Jumeirah, Burj Al Arab, Burj Khalifa and The World islands amongst others. The water take-off is thrilling as is the ride where the plane dives, swerves and banks to ensure that you get the perfect viewing angle. Returning to the Golf Club, tee off at this enchanting course – its 17th and 18th holes (both par 4s) are the most impressive, not to mention challenging, in the entire region. Break at the iconic Legends Restaurant at the Creek Clubhouse. The steak is the highlight of the meal here be it the Australian Wagyu or French Charolais. No day of self-pampering is complete without a stop at the spa. I'd recommend the Talise Spa at Burj Al Arab. As the day comes to close, it's time for one more 'only-in-Dubai' experience – the Culinary Flight at Burj Al Arab which allows you to explore Burj Al Arab's astounding repertoire of restaurants and bars, course by course. The journey begins 200m above sea level at Skyview Bar before moving on through five of the hotel's most impressive dining venues. Prepare to be treated like royalty as each restaurant showcases its most sumptuous dishes in Al Muntaha, Al Iwan and Junsui. Next, a succulent main course awaits you at Al Mahara, and finally, a decadent dessert in the stunning atrium lounge Sahn Eddar, will put the finishing touches on an unforgettable culinary experience.
Dubai Dining	Dining in Dubai is not just about eating – it is more about sampling the cuisine from the 200 nationalities that live here. As a culinary capital not only regionally but increasingly globally, Dubai has long caught the attention of Michelin-starred chefs and is home to some of the best tastes in the world – whether that be in its five-star hotels or its pavement cafes.
Air Canada Dining	Air Canada announced a partnership with celebrated Canadian Chef David Hawksworth this month to design signature dishes which will be exclusively featured on Air Canada flights in International Business Class and Maple Leaf Lounges. Chef Hawksworth will collaborate with and guide Air Canada's flight caterers and Maple Leaf Lounge providers to create a selection of seasonal dining options including appetizers, salads, main courses and desserts, complementing the airline's current route-inspired dining on international flights. The following dishes are being featured first on flights beginning in October 2015: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Yellowfin tuna tataki appetizer served with scallion ginger vinaigrette, passion fruit and puffed rice</li> <li>- Tamari roasted sablefish main course served with bok choy, brown rice and chili miso vinaigrette</li> <li>- Decadent dark chocolate fondant with blackberry compote</li> </ul>

Air Canada Vacations Hotels in Dubai	There are nearly 500 hundred options available – 476 to be precise! Whether a family looking to cater for all ages, a couple wanting a romantic getaway, or the group with an eye on celebrating, there’s a hotel that fits the bill – whatever the budget. And when it comes to location, there’s the choice of a city stay, a beachside resort or an eco-retreat in the desert. The choice is yours. Of course, the most renowned Dubai-owned hotels belong to the Jumeirah Group, which has set the standards – not just in the region, but globally. The iconic Burj Al Arab is often referred to as the only ‘seven-star hotel’ in the world and, to prove a point, is the perennial Global Luxury winner in the World Luxury Hotel Awards. The group has seven resorts in Dubai and these are available with Air Canada. What other recommendations do you have from the Air Canada line-up? The colossal Atlantis The Palm is a world-class destination in its own right. It has 1,539 hotel rooms, 21 restaurants and bars, ShuiQi spa, N’Dulge nightclub, 1.4km of private beach, an aquarium, a lagoon in which visitors can swim with dolphins, as well as the awesome Aquaventure waterpark. Atlantis is an obvious family favourite – but it faces tough competition from the likes of Jumeirah Beach Hotel, ranked as the number one family hotel in TripAdvisor’s Traveller Choice Awards 2014. The family clincher for Jumeirah is, of course, its Wild Wadi Waterpark, to which free access is granted to all Jumeirah guests in the city. The Jebel Ali Golf Resort is another firm family favourite, yet all the resort hotels take the demands of their youngest guests very seriously, providing them with extensive kids’ clubs and activities. For gourmards, the choice of where to stay gets even more complicated, with some hotels offering scores of restaurants, cafés, lounges and more. The JW Marriott Marquis, for instance, boasts 19 restaurants covering a melee of global cuisines and flavours, with many dishes served up by Michelin-starred chefs. For Indian flavours, let Michelin-starred Vineet Bhatia serve you at the Grosvenor House Dubai; treat yourself to Japanese at Okku at the H Hotel; indulge in French fare courtesy of Pierre Gagnaire at the InterContinental Dubai Festival City.

	For keen golfers who never want to leave the fairways, it's a toss-up between staying at the Park Hyatt, the InterContinental Dubai Festival City for the Al Badia Golf Club, or boutique hotel Address Montgomerie Dubai. But for many, it's not the lush greens of the golf courses but the vast ocean of desert that represents the 'real' Dubai, and for this unforgettable desert experience there are two luxurious options: eco-resort Al Maha Desert Resort, offering 42 suites all with their own private pool blending seamlessly into the desert dunes; or Bab al Shams Desert Resort and Spa, a take on an old fortified Bedouin village hidden among the ocean of sand, yet only a 45-minute drive from the city centre. Bot properties exude romance, and dining under a starlit sky is the perfect proposal for couples in love.
Air Canada Vacations Excursions and Tours in Dubai	There's over 100 options here too! From safaris and camel rides to hot air ballooning and sand surfing, ACV have all the choices covered! Here are some examples... The Bedouin Safari. The exciting trip will begin in the late afternoon with your 4x4 pickup right from wherever you are in city. Heading towards the direction of the desert will take just 45 minutes. You stop for tyre deflation to allow the vehicles to ride the desert sands and your safari guide will show his skills. The dune bashing, sand bashing or dune driving will halt for photo stops at sunset and in the beautiful sand dunes you will be astonished at the desert's unique beauty. The second half of the evening will begin with a traditional Arabian welcome to our beautiful traditional Bedouin desert camp. Experiencing the camel ride will certainly add excitement to the evening before you sit back and relax under the stars. The Bedouin desert camp features a corner for sheesha where you may want to try this traditional Arabic water pipe, a corner for taking pictures in traditional costumes and the henna tattoo from a henna painter. Then the Tanoura Dancer takes the stage followed by the belly dancer who finishes the evening in a quite amazingly eye catching way. Catamaran cruise Enjoy sensational views over Dubai from the sea on a relaxing catamaran cruise with a barbecue lunch. Glide over the azure Persian Gulf amid the cool coastal breezes as your catamaran circles the stunning Palm Jumeirah and Atlantis The Palm hotel; visits the incredible New World archipelago, and cruises close to the sail-shaped Burj Al-Arab. Along the way, enjoy time for a refreshing swim, savour a delicious, on-board BBQ lunch, and refuel with drinks from the deck bar.
